My opinion...no. I'm not in support of this project.

Everyone is always looking for affordable housing in White Rock. It isn't ever going to be affordable for the ones complaining about it. And what about the ones living there who can currently afford it? Are you going to give them a new unit for the same rent once it's finished? And what about while it's being built? Are you going to give them a place to live in the meantime? Do you care that you're displacing seniors who are already struggling? Can we not leave it alone for now? Let rental units grow in areas that need upgrading. This isn't it.
